

Will Hate Win?

Ash-Shatat – Syrian-sponsored TV series

It's outrageous. A vicious anti-Semitic TV series produced by Syria and aired on a satellite network owned by Hezbollah is up for awards at Egypt's prestigious Cairo Television and Radio Festival.

The series, Ash-Shatat (The Diaspora), is based on horrifying anti-Semitic stereotypes including the notorious forgery, the Protocols of the Elders of Zion, one of the greatest catalysts ever for hatred and violence against Jews.

There is no excuse for promoting this kind of anti-Semitic hate-mongering. But that's precisely what the Syrian and Egyptian governments are doing.

ADL calls on both countries to remove this indefensible hatred from the Cairo Television and Radio Festival.
