

NOW THE WORLD NEEDS TO ACT

The world without

In 1939, a tyrant armed with the deadliest weapons of his age threatened the eradication of the Jewish people. Hitler called for “the annihilation of the Jewish race in Europe.” Six years later, he had largely succeeded.

Now, Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad has issued a despicable call for Israel to be “wiped off the map.” With a clandestine nuclear program, the Iranian regime has the potential to make good on its threat to kill millions of people. The world has strongly condemned Ahmadinejad, but we need to do more.

We call on the world community to:

- Demand that Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad unequivocally retract his threat. If he doesn't, countries must move quickly to sever all ties with Iran.
- Urge that UN Secretary General Kofi Annan uphold the dignity of the international community and cancel his upcoming trip to Tehran.
- Insist that the Security Council investigate whether Iran has violated its United Nations Charter commitments and has forfeited the privilege of UN membership.

Iran has chosen to put itself outside the community of nations. The world must act now.
