

This is today's anti-Semitism.

Synagogue bombings, Istanbul, Turkey, 11/15/03

Photo by Anadolian, Reuters 2003

And it threatens all of us.

Saturday's terrorist attacks in Turkey were another, dreadful manifestation of the new anti-Semitism. It is inspired by the increasingly vicious hate emanating from the Middle East — and its victims aren't just Jews but people everywhere.

It's getting worse.

In just the last few weeks, synagogues have been bombed, Jewish schools burned, more than half of Europeans polled declared Israel to be the biggest threat to world peace, cultural and intellectual leaders spewed hate-filled canards and 57 Muslim leaders stood and applauded while the Malaysian Prime Minister declared, "Jews rule this world by proxy." And terrorists continue to murder indiscriminately in the name of hatred against Jews.

ADL is leading the battle against this vicious global anti-Semitism. Speak out and help us fight back. Visit www.adl.org to find out what you can do.

Barbara B. Balsler, National Chair
Abraham H. Foxman, National Director
Anti-Defamation League, 823 United Nations Plaza
New York, NY 10017

