

How many millions this time?

Courtesy of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum

Since February 2003, more than 50,000 civilians, including women, children and the elderly, have been butchered and killed in Sudan. Millions more have been raped, starved and forced from their homes by marauding, government-backed militias. When will the world say Enough?

Enough, to the Sudanese government and their murderous thugs. Enough, to turning a blind eye when other human beings are in desperate need of help. And enough, to the hatred and inhumanity that fester into heinous acts of genocide.

The time has come to speak out for the victims of Sudan. Because we know all too well the price of silence.
